PRISM

A prism is a solid figure whose bases or ends are similar, and which reflects beams of light that pass through it. In a way, Montclair State University represents the idea of a prism because students enter into the school as light flows through a prism. Just as the prism reflects the light into the shades of the rainbow, the students of Montclair shine with diverse ideas, looks, and ways of living. Montclair State University is that prism, that solid figure made up of diverse students all sharing similar goals, working together to make this prism shine.

*In Memory of Ehy Ohamadike, SGA Legislator and friend, whose bright smile will always be remembered.
His light will always shine upon us.*

Baseball

After starting off their season 4-5, the Red Hawk Baseball team pulled together to win 34 of their next 40 games, take the NJAC crown from The College of New Jersey, repeat as Mid-Atlantic Regional Champions, and earn a third-place finish in the College World Series.

Along the way, Third Baseman Craig Conway earned a plethora of honors, including NJAC Athlete of the Year, National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association

Division III Mid-Atlantic Region Player of the Year, MSU Outstanding Male Athlete of the Year, and First Team honors from a number of organizations. Head Coach Norm Schoenig was named NJAC Coach of the Year for the second straight year, and junior lefthander Ryan Costello was picked by the Toronto Blue Jays in the tenth round of the MLB First-Year Player Draft.

Costello led the NJAC in Earned Run Average, and was second in the nation in the same category, with a mark of 1.39. His record for the season was 6-1, and opponents hit only .180 against him. He also earned All-NJAC and All-NCBWA honors. The New Jersey College Baseball Association named him their Player of the Year, and he was a Third Team All-American as named by the American Baseball Coaches' Association.

Conway used his senior year to capture MSU career records in hits (290), doubles (66), and triples (17), as well as to tie the national record for doubles in a season, with 27. He hit .446 for the year, and was selected as an All-American for the second time, as well as being named the Eastern College Athletics Conference Player of the Year.

Brian Ellerson, Frank Longo, Dave Wurst, Scott Allan, and Scott Clark all joined Conway in topping .300 in batting average. Corey Hammon led the pitching staff with 11 wins, four complete games, and 103 strikeouts. Jeff Gogal went 7-1 with a 2.10 ERA, and Scott Allen went 6-0 with 67 strikeouts.

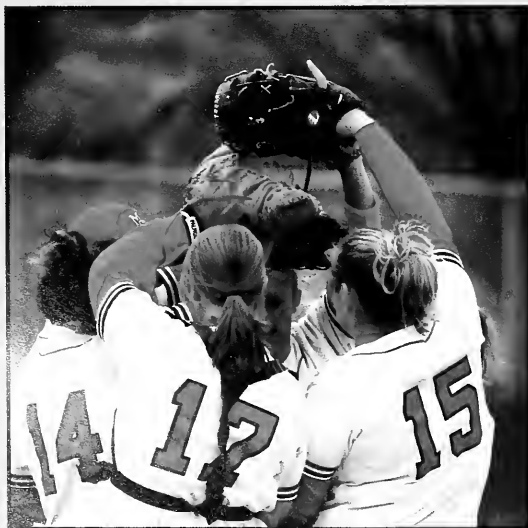

The team also placed seven players on the All-Mid-Atlantic Region Team, with Conway, Costello, Allan and Wurst being named to the First Team, and Ellerson, Hamman and Gogal named to the Second Team.

Softball

The Red Hawk Softball team won their second straight ECAC Title during the 2001 season, after compiling a 36-12 record, including 12-6 against the NJAC. The Red Hawks topped Albright College in two straight games in the finals of the double-elimination tournament to take the title. The Red Hawks won the first game, 7-4, and then proceeded to take the second by an 8-2 score. Albright had defeated MSU, 2-0, in the tournament's opener.

Senior Kim Caruso capped her MSU career with the ECAC Tournament MVP award after going 9-for-18 in the tournament, with five doubles, five runs batted in, and four runs scored. Tara Todaro went 2-0 in the tournament, including a win in the clinching game, during which she allowed just two hits and two runs with six strikeouts in seven innings.

The Red Hawks also took third place in the NJAC Tournament, losing twice to eventual champion Rowan, 3-2 in both games. Between the two losses was a 4-3 victory over TCNJ.

Caruso led the team in batting average over

Galiszewski led the team with 7 homeruns, 37 RBIs, and a .736 slugging percentage. Crystal Sweeney led the staff in victories, with 15, complete games, with 14, and posted a team-leading 1.93 ERA. Todaro led the staff in strikeouts with 89 in 121.1 innings pitched.

Football

The MSU Football program followed up their 1999 NJAC Championship season as best they could - with another NJAC Championship and a second-straight NCAA D-III Tournament berth. The team was left with a 7-3 record after their first-round 31-29 loss to Springfield, including a 6-0 record against their NJAC opponents.

The team won the NJAC Title by defeating Rowan, 17-13, in the final game of the regular season. Ed Collins wowed fans all season long, compiling 2,866 yards while completing 56 percent of his passes and throwing for 16 touchdowns. Eric Magrini led the receiving corps with 70 catches, 888 yards, and 7 TDs, while Laquan Majette led all rushers with 522 yards and 6 touchdowns.

MSU was represented by eight players on the All-NJAC First Team, including Ed Collins (QB), Eric Magrini (WR), Anthony Vitale (C), Gabe Gagliardo (OL), Kevin Kelly (DL), Carlos Bolanos (DL), John Turi (LB), and Vic Mesce (DB). Six more players earned Second Team honors, and two more were honorable mentions. Gagliardo, Bolanos, Turi, and Mesce were also honored as First Team All-ECAC selections.

Wrestling

The wrestling season started off with two quick tournament wins for the Red Hawks, at the MSU Invitational and Kutztown Tournament. Rami Ratel finished the season with a pair of Outstanding Wrestler honors at the Hunter Invitational and the Metro Championships, while senior Florian Ghinea finished off his career with a third-place finish at Nationals and another All-America honor.

Freshman Alex Aliakseyenka and sophomore Brad Christie also earned All-America honors, the second year in a row for Christie. Despite the team placing only seventh at the National Tournament, they once again captured the Metro Conference title.

Women's Soccer

A 15-game undefeated streak that included 13 wins ultimately led to the school's first-ever ECAC Metro Championship for the women's soccer team, which outscored its opponents 9-1 in the tournament. After a 2-1 loss to William Paterson University in the opening round of the NJAC playoffs, the Red Hawks gained revenge by downing the Pioneers 1-0 in the second round of the ECAC tournament. The very next day, the Red Hawks put on a repeat performance by downing New York University with the same score.

MSU's two All-NJAC First Teamers facilitated the two victories, with Maggie Findlay, the Tournament MVP, scoring the goal that sent the Pioneers home, and Marie Plaskett scoring with 58 seconds remaining in the final game to bring the championship to Montclair.

Head Coach Eileen Blair led the team to a school-record 17 victories, and was named the NJAC's Coach of the Year after posting a 7-1-1 record in conference play. Nicole Coplan and Christin Cifelli were named to the All-NJAC Second Team, and Meghan Carr received All-NJAC Honorable Mention. Goaltender Stephanie Romanko finished the year with 14 shutouts and a .54 goals against average, making 94 saves against just 13 goals in 2,164 minutes of play.

Hockey

In just their third season, the Red Hawks Hockey Club tore up the ice with bone-crushing hits, blistering slapshots, and uncanny passing. They soared to a division record of 16-0 during the regular season, then charged through the playoffs to finish off the year with an 18-0 Mid-Atlantic Collegiate Hockey Association record, and the league's Championship Cup.

Sophomore forward Kevin Micek, who finished as the fourth-best scorer in the nation with 48 goals and 32 assists in 28 ACHA Division 2 games, tied for the M-ACHA lead in points with Monmouth's Ed Zurawski (54) and was selected to the All-Northeast Region First Team. Forward-turned-defenseman Anthony Rossillo, who led the M-ACHA with 28 assists, earned an Honorable Mention.

Micek and Rossillo were joined by superb goaltender Robert Martinez on the All-MACHA First Team, and James Latham was named to the Second Team. The Red Hawks were also represented by Honorable Mentions David Bodson and Ryan Trott, both in their first year with the club.

Next year, the Red Hawks are joined by a crop of brand new talent, who will be joining up with the entire '00-'01 roster to attempt another run at the Cup. In addition, the Red Hawks will be playing their first year in the Super East, the top ACHA-2 Conference in the Northeast Region. After finished ranked sixth in the Northeast, the Red Hawks will be looking to crack the top four and earn a spot in the National Tournament.

Women's Lacrosse

9 - 6

The Red Hawk Women's Lacrosse team set a school record for victories by posing nine of them against six losses. The team won its last three contests to set the new record after an 11-10 double-overtime loss to Neuman College dropped the Red Hawks to 6-6.

Jodi Gangemi led the team in goals with 55 on 101 shots, and earned an Honorable Mention for the ECAC D-III Metro team. Cathy Homiek led the team in points and assists with 72 and 40, respectively. Kristen Miskey also made a significant impact, scoring 36 goals, good for second on the team.

Despite the emergence of Sean Pekarsky as a big-time goalscorer, the MSU Men's Lacrosse team wasn't able to get into the Knickerbocker Conference playoffs, after just missing the tournament last year. Pekarsky, who was twice named the Rookie of the Week, led the team in goals with 30 of them on just 76 shots, and junior Nick Bombadier led the team in points with 41.

Women's Basketball

15 - 11 ; 11 - 7 NJAC

Interim Head Coach Dr. Lisa Pleban performed admirably at her position, leading the Women's basketball team to a winning record and the second round of the ECAC Tournament. In addition to that, the season also saw senior Marlena Lawrence move past the 1,000 point mark and up to sixth on the MSU All-Time scoring list, with 1,280 points by season's end. Lawrence was also named to the All-NJAC Second Team, along with sophomore teammate Lakeesha Langston.

Langston led the team in scoring with 12.2 points per game, with Lawrence right behind at 11.3 points per game. Lawrence also led the team with 43 blocks, and finished second in rebounding with 186, behind Jasmine Batts' 189.

Men's Basketball

11 - 13 ; 6 - 12 NJAC

The Men's Basketball season started off promising enough, with a pair of victories to take the crown at the Dr. Kleppinger Tip-Off Classic. Ben Martinez netted 18 points in the final, including a game-winning jumper with two ticks left on the clock, to earn the MVP honors for the tournament.

The next six games for the team were all NJAC match-ups, and they managed to win three of six, including two against the lowly Rutgers schools. Losses to William Paterson, Richard Stockton, and Kean didn't bode well, and the downward spiral continued as the team would win just three more NJAC games all season.

The team did, however, capture the Billy Martucci Holiday Tournament, with junior Omar Boothe taking the MVP honors. As the season wound down, though, the Red Hawks lost six of seven NJAC games, including five straight at one point, but had a chance to pull their record back to .500 with two straight wins and three games left to play. It was not to be, as Ramapo, New Jersey City University, and The College of New Jersey all defeated MSU in close games, ending their season.

Women's Tennis

7 - 2 ; 3 - 1 NJAC

Sophomores Paola Alexandres and Tracey Saladino led the Women's Tennis team to five straight victories to open the season, and were named the All-NJAC Doubles team. Alexandres also earned First Team Singles honors.

The team had enormous success during their three NJAC wins, with 8-1 victories over Ramapo and Rutgers-Newark and a 7-2 victory over Kean, but they couldn't compete with TCNJ as they fell, 0-9.

Daladino and Bisia Duch also earned victories in the Consolation Finals at the NJAIAW Championships at Drew University.

Ron Gerhold led the MSU Golf team this year, posting second-place finishes at both the MSU Fall Classic, with a score of 79, and the MSU Golf Invitational, with a score of 75. The MSU A Team finished in third place behind Dowling College and TCNJ at the Fall Classic, just ten strokes off the lead with a final tally of 338.

Sharon Bray also performed admirably on the way to earning MSU's Scholar Athlete award with the highest GPA amongst all athletes.

Field Hockey

13 - 6 ; 1 - 3 NJAC

The Red Hawks Field Hockey team earned a bid in the ECAC Championship game after being named as the conference's second seed. The Red Hawks earned the bid after coming back from a 1-0 deficit to defeat Frostburg State in the semifinals. Juniors Laura Popes and Allison Bellino and Senior Alison Bonavita all posted goals in the second half of the game to pull out the win.

The appearance in the ECAC tournament marked the first time the team was selected for postseason play since 1990, when the Red Hawks won the ECAC Championship. The team won seven of their final nine games to post a 12-5 regular season record.

The team has a bright future, with two All-NJAC First Team players returning in Junior Janel Bertini, who led the team in assists with 13, and freshman Lea Smith, who led the team in goals with 11.

The seventh-seeded Red Hawks had a great postseason run in the ECAC Tournament this year, riding nine straight shutout periods by junior goaltender Alex Luna. The Red Hawks pulled out 1-0 victories over St.

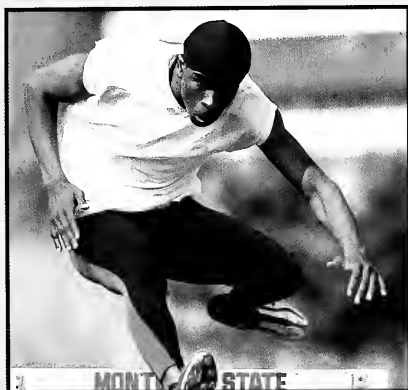

Joseph's College and New Jersey City University before taking a 0-0 score through three overtimes against fourth-seeded Richard Stockton. In the fourth overtime, RSC took the Championship with a header off of a corner kick.

Another instrumental part of the run was freshman Mike Woessner, who scored the Red Hawks' lone goal in the first contest, and assisted on Atiba Yusuf's goal in the second. Woessner was named to the All-NJAC Second Team, and was an honorable mention as well as the only freshman on the Mid-Atlantic Regional All-American team.

Alex Luna, Shannon Sheppard, Mike Johnston, and Sean Pasioka joined Woessner on the All-NJAC squad as honorable mentions.

Cross Country &

This year's MSU Track and Field team boasted a pair of All-Americans in junior Nick Gregorio and sophomore Tierra Hicks. Gregorio placed seventh in the shot put at the NCAA Division III Outdoor Track and Field Championships with a throw of 16.31 meters. Hicks earned her honor by placing fifth in the 400 Meter Hurdles at the same event, with a time of 62:33.

The men's team also finished second at the NJAC Indoor Championships, on the backs of Darryl Louis, who was chosen the NJAC's Outstanding Male Track Athlete, and Gregorio, who was chosen as the Outstanding Male Field Athlete.

Danielle Florio capped the MSU Swim team's season by breaking the MSU record for the 1650 freestyle at the Metropolitan League Championships at Rutgers University. A time of 19:05.52 was good for eighth place among Division III schools. The women's team as a whole finished in fourth place, while Eddie Fernandez scored points in the 200 Intermediate Medley and the 100 meter and 200 meter breaststrokes to lead the men to a sixth place finish.

The Red Hawks' 400 medley relay quarter of Elissa Kaplan, Deena Hamdan, Regina Potocnie and Florio also earned All-NJAC Second Team honors.

A midseason seven-game winning streak that included five straight wins over two days to capture the Russel Sage Tournament helped the Red Hawks to an 18-10 finish last year. Senior Neely Hufnagel, who led the team with 323 kills on the year, recorded 65 kills, 10 aces, and 55 digs to capture the Tournament MVP award. Hufnagel also earned All-NJAC First Team honors, along with Sharon Kaus, who finished as MSU's All-Time leader in assists, including 10.32 per game in 2000. Kaus was also named to the Vassar College Invitational All-Tournament team earlier in the season.

The team also managed to advance to the second round of the NJAC Playoffs with a 3-0 win over Rutgers-Newark, but the season stopped there when Kean pulled out a 2-1 victory in the semifinals.

EDUARD ALIAKSEYENKA

Eduard Aliakseyenka fit right in with the cast of All-American and NCAA Championship wrestlers here at MSU, posting a team-best 36-4 record on his way to placing third in the nation in the 184-pound weight class.

His 19 pins on the year were a tie for the team lead, and the third place finish at the NCAA Championships earned him All-American status in his first year at MSU.

He finished at 18-1 in Tournament matches on the year, and 15-1 at Dual Meets. He took first place at 184 pounds at the MSU Invitational, the Kutztown Invitational, the Spartan Invitational, the Hunter Invitational, and the Metro Conference Tournament.

Aliakseyenka also wrestled up a class at 197 pounds at a Quad-Match with Springfield College, Western New England, and the U.S. Coast Guard. He won all three of his matches, and ended up finishing 5-0 at 197 pounds in addition to his 31-4 record at 184 pounds.

Freshman Female Athlete of the Year

LEA SMITH

Lea Smith made quite a splash in her freshman year, earning numerous honors while helping to lead the MSU Field Hockey squad to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Finals against St. Lawrence.

Smith earned herself NJAC Rookie of the Week honors on two occasions - the weeks of September 18 and October 9. The week of October 9, she scored four times in three games, including the game-winners against both Kean and Moravian, as well as the goal that sent MSU to overtime against Eastern College. The very next day, Smith notched another game-winner with five minutes left in a 1-0 win over FDU-Madison. She finished the season with five game-winning goals, the most on the team.

Smith also led in both goals and points for the year, with 11 and 24, respectively. Laura Popes, Alison Bonavita and Alison Bellino all finished with a second-best eight goals. Popes added five assists to bring her tally to 21 points, second behind Smith.

The Field Hockey team set a school record for goals scored in a season with 51, and with Smith around for a few more years, they should challenge that record once again.

DARRYL LOUIS

Darryl Louis served as the Team Captain of the MSU Track and Field team this year, and did the position proud by winning the 400-Meter Dash and serving as a member of the 4 x 400 Relay Team at the NJAC Championships. At the same event, he was also named the NJAC's Most Outstanding Male Track Athlete.

He also picked up a fourth-place finish in the Men's 800-Meter Dash at the MSU Invitational, and for his performance throughout the season, he was selected to the All-NJAC and All-ECAC Teams.

TIERRA HICKS

Tierra Hicks had a phenomenal year in '00-'01, setting a new New Jersey Athletic Conference record for the 400-Meter Dash as well as being honored as a member of the All-NJAC and All-ECAC First Teams.

On top of that, she placed fifth in the nation in the 400-Meter Hurdles, with a time of 62:33, at the NCAA Championships to earn All-America honors. At the MSU Invitational, she placed second in the 400-Meter Intermediate Hurdles.

Junior Male Athlete of the Year

BRIAN ELLERSON

Despite missing time thanks to a torn knee ligament, Brian Ellerson finished with the second-highest batting average on the MSU Baseball team, behind oft-awarded Craig Conway. Ellerson finished his fantastic season with a .370 batting average, 15 steals on 16 attempts, nine doubles, five homeruns, 38 runs, 29 runs batted in, a .442 on-base percentage, and a .549 slugging percentage.

He returned from his injury in time to help MSU capture the NJAC Championship, going 7-for-14 with a homerun in the tournament. He earned NJAC Second Team honors as well as All-Mid Atlantic Region Second Team honors.

CHRISTIN CIFELLI

While Maggie Findlay and Marie Plaskett were putting the ball in net on a consistent basis all season long, Christin Cifelli was at the other end of the field, ensuring that their opponents didn't have the same opportunities.

Cifelli anchored an outstanding defense that posted 14 shutouts and allowed just 13 goals in 23 games. She led the defense that held Ramapo, William Paterson University and New York University to a combined 19 shots on goal and just one score during the three-game ECAC Tournament to capture MSU Soccer's first ECAC Championship.

Her outstanding play also led to her selection as an All-NJAC Second Teamer.

Senior Male Athlete of the Year

DAVE WURST

Dave Wurst was one of only five players to start in all 49 of MSU's baseball games this year, and a big factor in that was his solid play in the field and his solid hitting in the lead-off spot throughout the season. He was one of only three regulars to hit over .350 for the season (.354), with Brian Ellerson and Craig Conway. He was one of only three players on the team to accumulate over 100 total bases, with 102, and one of only three players to stroke more than 60 hits (Wurst finished with 68, behind only Craig Conway's 91).

Wurst led the team by collecting 57 runs, 30 runs batted, 23 walks and he posted a .452 on base percentage. He also led the team in steals with 24, and this year he broke the MSU career stolen base record, finishing up with 68 in his four years.

Wurst helped the team to their Mid-Atlantic Regional Championship, going 8-for-19 with nine runs and nine runs batted in during the four-game tournament, including three runs and three ribbies in the Championship game.

Wurst's accomplishments this season earned him spots on the NCAA Div. III Mid-Atlantic All-Region Team, the All-NJAC First Team, the All-ECAC Metro First Team, the Mid-Atlantic Regional All-Tournament Team, the ABCA NCAA Div. III All-American Second Team, and the NJCBA All-Star Second Team.

Senior Female Athlete of the Year

MAGGIE FINDLAY

Maggie Findlay truly dominated the opposition this year while leading the Red Hawks Women's Soccer team to the ECAC Championship. While the defense held opponents to just 13 goals on the season, Findlay nearly doubled that herself, knocking in an MSU-record 25 goals, including six game-winners, on 104 shots in 23 games. Add in her seven assists, and she finished the year with 57 points, 26 better than the next on the list.

Her final year here at MSU was a rewarding one, as she took home a plethora of honors, including All-NJAC First Team, Mid-Atlantic All-America, and MSU Player of the Year. In addition, she finished off her career with the ECAC Tournament MVP award after racking up three goals and an assist in the three-game tournament.

MSU Male Athlete of the Year

CRAIG CONWAY

It's hard to imagine a season like the one Craig Conway put together in 2001. Unless, of course, you're playing a video game. Conway led the Red Hawks Baseball team to the NJAC Championship, to a second-straight Mid-Atlantic Regional Championship, and back to the College World Series, where the Red Hawks finished third.

He led the Red Hawks not just in the clubhouse, not just by setting examples, but by putting together a season rarely seen at any level of competition. You can pick out any offensive statistic, and you don't have to look far for his name. It's usually at the top. Conway started all 49 games for the Red Hawks, led the team with 204 at-bats, a .446 average, 91 hits, nine homeruns, an astounding .696 slugging percentage, 142 total bases, and a .481 on base percentage. In addition, he broke MSU career records for hits (290), doubles (66, including 16 in 2001), and triples (17, including four this year).

Those numbers earned him the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Mid-Atlantic Region Player of the Year award, the NJAC Player of the Year award, the NJAC Male Athlete of the Year award, and spots on the All-NJAC First Team, NJCBA All-Star First Team, All-ECAC Metro First Team, Mid-Atlantic Regional All-Tournament Team, Mid-Atlantic Regional All-Regional First Team, ABCA All-American First Team, and the NCAA Championship All-Tournament First Team.

MSU Female Athlete of the Year

KIM CARUSO

Kim Caruso earned a plethora of honors this year while leading the Red Hawks Softball team to a 36-13 record and the ECAC Championship. She was named to the All-NJAC First Team, the All-ECAC First Team, and the NFCA Mid-Atlantic All-Regional Second Team. In addition, she was awarded the ECAC Tournament MVP award after going 9-for-18 with four runs and five runs batted in in the five-game tournament.

On top of her postseason awards and accomplishments, her statistics for the year were mind-boggling. Caruso started all 48 games and batted a team-high .437 off of 66 hits, drove in 31 runs, scored 34 runs, and drew 13 walks while striking out only three times. Her .497 on base percentage also led all regulars, and she tallied 320 putouts on the year, giving her an MSU-record 1,048 for her career.

As if that weren't enough, Caruso also performed admirably when asked to step in and pitch. She was 2-0 in a pair of starts, one of them a complete game.

Greek Week 2001

Each Spring, the Greek organizations strut their stuff by participating in activities such as the egg toss, the wheelbarrow race, and a burping contest. However, the talent show drew the largest crowd with each group vying for first place. After a week of activity, the Greeks celebrated with a night out at Doc's.

Cotillion 2001

Each year the Greek sororities celebrate the induction of each new sister with a candle ceremony. The inductees wear white dresses while the rest of the attendees are allowed to wear whatever formal attire they desire. This year's Cotillion took place in February after a grueling year of pledging during the previous fall and spring.

Student Life

College Hall

With its Spanish colonial architecture, College Hall is the dominant, as well as the most impressive, building on campus. Built in 1908, College Hall stands as the oldest building on campus, housing just a few classrooms in contrast to the many classrooms it held over ninety years ago. It is now home to the Office of the President as well as many departmental offices.

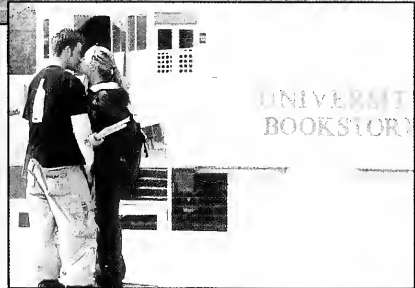

The bell tower atop this structure remains the icon of MSU, accompanying the school name on its logo.

Student Center

Still home to the many organizations and services of the S. G. A., the Student Center continues to be the focal point of most student activities. Built in 1972 with the annex added on in 1982, the building also houses a student cafeteria, ballrooms, the C-Store, the bookstore, and the ever-popular Rathskellar. Nicknamed "The Ratt", the Rathskellar is a place where students can find food at just about any time of the day, and especially when looking for a midnight snack with the "Late Night At the Ratt" food program. Whether it is 2pm or 2am, the SC is always open for business.

Morehead Hall

Morehead Hall was originally MSU's training ground for future teachers. It was a high school during its early years and today acts as the Academic Success Center, where students can seek academic advising and find help in achieving their career goals with the career services and cooperative education programs offered by the Center.

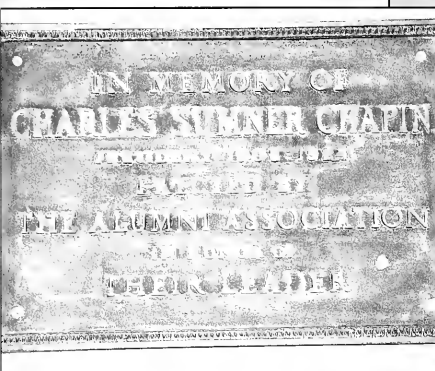

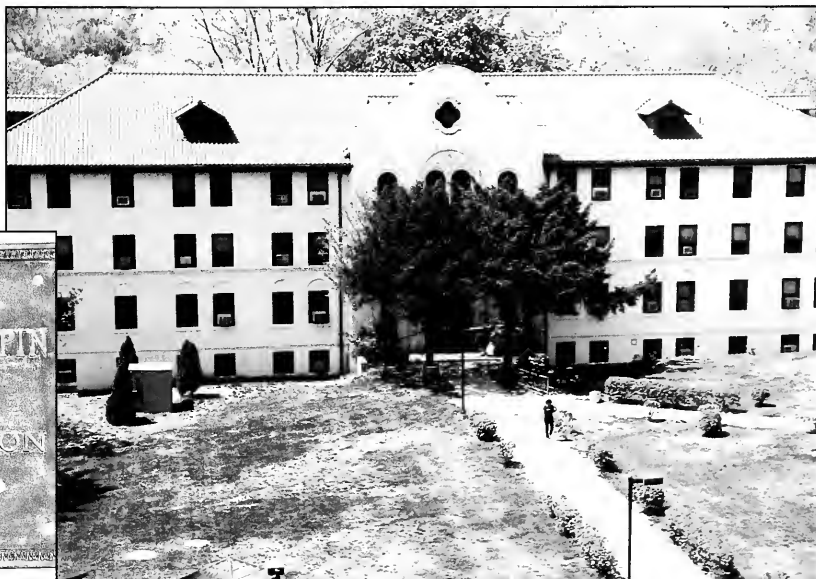

Dedicated to Henry A. Sprague, the second president of the university, Sprague Library holds within its walls one million plus books, several viewing and listening rooms, hundreds of periodicals in hard copy and/or microfiche or film, and a computer lab.

Sprague Library

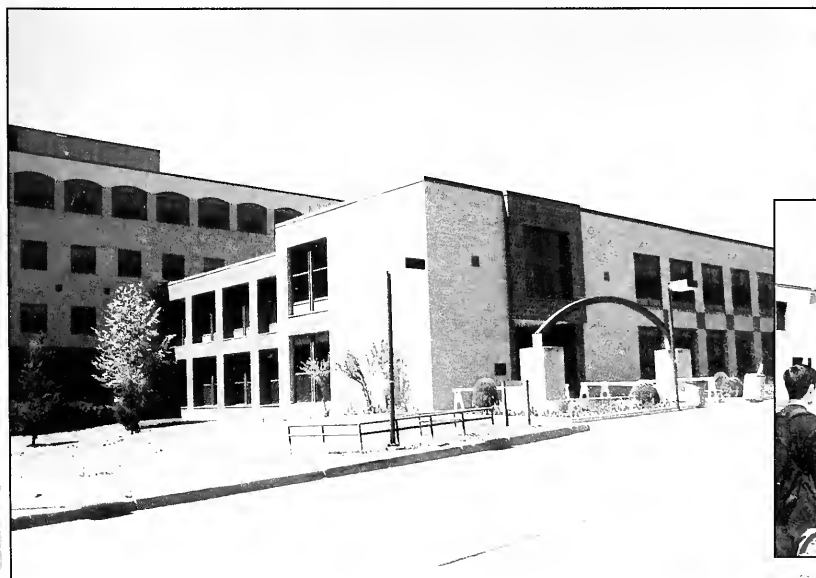

Originally a residence hall at MSU., Chapin Hall is now an academic building and home to the Center of Pedagogy and the Teacher Education Program. It holds classrooms, faculty and departmental offices, and the Curriculum Resource Center, which acts as a resource library for M.S.U.'s future teachers.

Chapin Hall

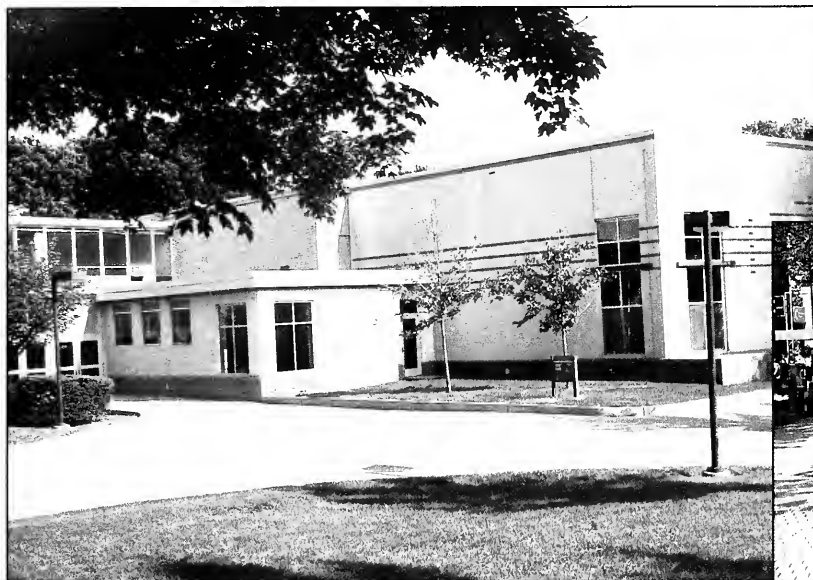

Dickson Hall

Dickson Hall was built in the early 1990's to house the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. It holds departmental offices, a faculty lounge, and the Brantl Lecture Hall. Its most popular feature, however, is the Red Hawk Express lunch truck parked outside, where students can run out to grab a quick bite to eat in between classes.

Life Hall/Memorial Aud.

The Theater and Broadcasting Dept.'s home is here at Life Hall and Memorial Auditorium. The auditorium was built in 1957 and seats over one thousand people. It is often used by the Theater Dept. for their performances. Life Hall holds a dance studio, numerous classrooms, and the Dumont TV Center used by Broadcasting students.

Dedicated to Edna McEachern in 1962, former chairperson of the Music Dept. at M.S.U., McEachern Music Building features a recital hall, two rehearsal rooms, and many private practice studios. Its locker-lined halls where students store their music sheets and instruments have been noted to resemble those of a high school.

McEachern Music Building

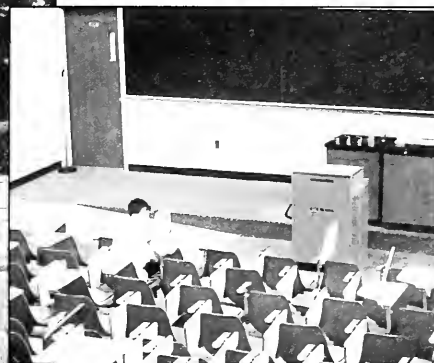

Built in 1969, Partridge Hall was dedicated to E. Dalton Partridge, this university's third president. Though once home to the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, the Accounting, Finance, Marketing, and Information Sciences majors from the School of Business can now be found roaming its halls and filling its classrooms.

Partridge Hall

Richardson Hall

As is written above its doors, Richardson Hall is home to the College of Science and Mathematics. The building contains many computer and science labs, as well as a few lecture halls with the old-fashioned stadium seating. Particularly, it is home to Computer Science, Math, and Physics majors.

Science Hall

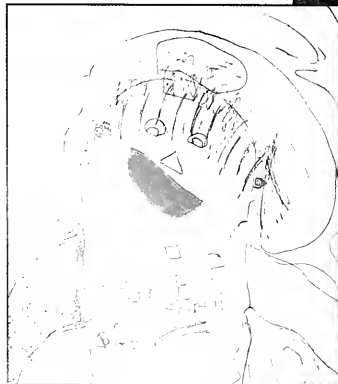

Completed in 2000, Science Hall stands as the newest addition to the M.S.U. campus. Though it experienced many problems upon first being opened, Science Hall is now completely up and running. It houses several science labs, dept. offices, and a greenhouse. One of its distinguishing features, though, is the mosaic displayed in the front hall of the building.

Finley Hall was dedicated to Charles S. Finley, former Dean of Instruction, in 1957. Mallory Hall was added in later years and dedicated to Virgil Mallory in 1963, former chairperson of the Math Dept. Though Mallory's rooms serve students from different majors, Finley's rooms are mostly dedicated to the natural sciences.

Mallory / Finley Hall

Panzer Gymnasium

Once the Panzer College of Physical Education and Hygiene, Panzer Gym was dedicated to Henry Panzer, the Swiss-born gymnast, in 1958. It houses classrooms for physical education majors and many gyms and a swimming pool, as well as a fitness room for student use. The football field can be found directly behind the gym.

Floyd Hall Arena

Completed in recent years, Floyd Hall Arena holds two ice-skating rinks open to the M.S.U. community and to the public. It is home to many league hockey teams, as well as to the champion Red Hawks Ice Hockey Team. Floyd Hall offers many instructive programs and clinics for anyone interested in hockey and/or figure skating.

Calcia Hall

Dedicated to the first chairperson of the Fine Arts Dept., Calcia Hall is home to this dept. As a result, its halls are filled with student artwork. The lawn is covered by sculptures, and the building itself is decorated with sculpted placards, colored tiles and an intricately designed gate, all representative of the creativity and imagination which flows within its walls.

Though originally built only for temporary housing, the Clove Road apartments are still standing, and still lived in, approximately twenty years later. These apartments offer upperclassmen the convenience of on-campus living, yet without the on-campus rules. The living room, kitchen, and bathtub are another added plus.

Clove Road Apartments

Freeman Hall is one of the older residence halls on campus, having been built in 1963, a detail that is obvious when one looks at the brightly colored panels in the windows. Located on the southern end of campus, Freeman Hall is set far apart from most of the other residence halls, adding a little more peace and quiet for the students who choose to live there.

Freeman Hall

Russ Hall

Russ Hall was originally built to be a residence hall, though later made an office building. In 97-98, it was returned to its roots and is once again a living establishment. Its rooms are assigned through an application process, and even then it is very selective. A nice plus: air conditioning and a microfridge.

Bohn Hall

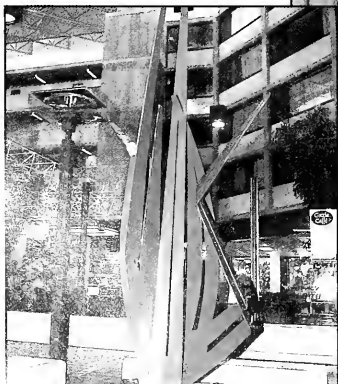

Built in 1971 and originally a females-only residence hall, Bohn Hall is now the tallest co-ed residence hall on campus with sixteen stories of rooms, offices and classrooms. Total, it houses approximately 550 students and more freshmen than any other building. Bohn Hall is also one of the few residence halls on campus with community bathrooms.

Blanton Hall is the largest residence hall on campus, with approximately 600 students living within its walls. It was built in 1980 and has one of the two cafeterias for on-campus residents, with the other cafeteria in the Freeman annex. It is the only building on campus with rooms that face into the building.

Blanton Hall

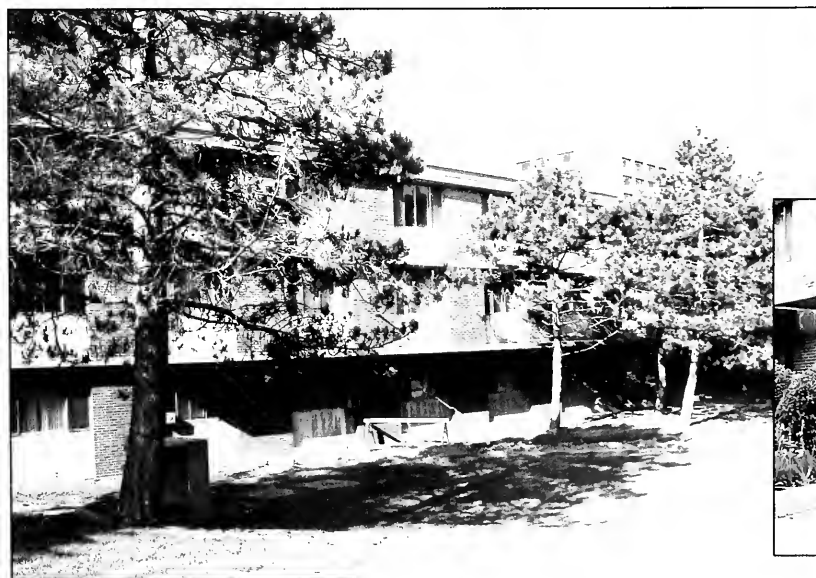

Originally the male-only residence hall on campus, Stone Hall has been co-ed since 1993. It has served as a residence hall for more years than any other on campus. In addition, because of its small size, Stone Hall residents are all very close and all share a strong sense of pride in their community.

Stone Hall

Webster Hall

Webster Hall is the only single-sex residence hall on campus. Built in 1962, it houses approximately 100 women. However, its small size only adds to the sense of pride of its residents as is evident by a sign that hangs in its front hall which reads: "Welcome to our Queen-dom."

Homecoming ...

Wanna dance? Everyone at the foam party had a great time dancing to the DJ's music, including SGA legislator, George Mesias.

Where did these bubbles come from? A lot of organizations, including the members from Players pictured here, took a break from their respective office hours to join the fun.

Kicking off the Homecoming festivities was the Foam Party held in the Student Center ballrooms. A brightly-colored inflatable dance floor was placed in the room and then filled with bubbles upon bubbles. Before long, the area was filled with students splish-splashing to the music!

Foam Party

You want me to take off WHAT?!?
The foam party was a great way to get everyone to let loose.

Taking the World by Storm!!!

Are you sure that's not Jennifer Lopez?
Little did Catiana know that her performance at the talent show would win her the Homecoming Queen crown.

Who am I? Other celebrity spottings at the talent show were that of Pee-wee Herman and Britney Spears. Of course, one of the highlights of the evening had to be Britney's breast implants which her astronaut friend was more than happy to return to her during the performance.

Warning: possible side effects may result from witnessing this event. Possible Side Effects cast members acted as hosts for the talent show.

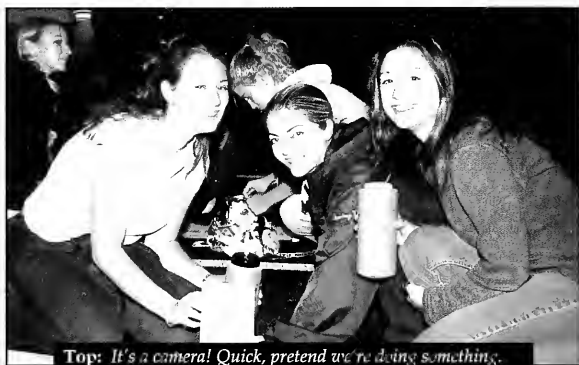

Talent Show

One of the highlights of Homecoming Week every year is the Talent Show, when all of the candidates for homecoming king and queen go up on stage and make fools of themselves to get votes. This year's show included poetry, singing, dancing, a contortionist, self-admiration, breast implants, falling through fire, and much much more.

Float Building

The all-night float-building party is always fun with rehearsals, construction and band performances going on simultaneously. Participating organizations cannot work on their floats before this night, so the party is rarely ever finished earlier than minutes before the actual Homecoming Parade.

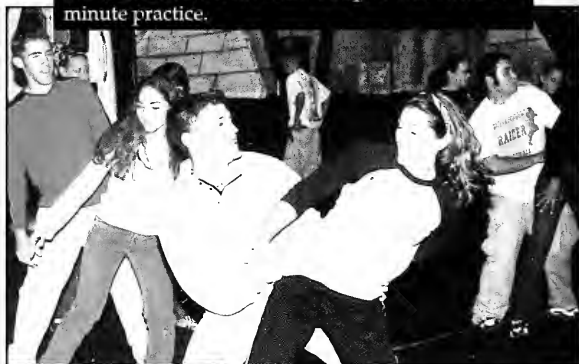

Top: It's a camera! Quick, pretend we're doing something. Whether or not they're in the performance, everyone helps their organization prepare. Bottom: And 1, 2, 3, 4, and 1, 2... Theta Xi and Delta Phi Epsilon hold a last-minute practice.

Top: Oops, we forgot a letter. The float-building party really is a lot of hard work. The organizations spend hours working on banners, props and the actual floats.

Right: Okay, so I put the pointy end here and turn it, right? Putting the float together is just one of the many activities of the night.

Left: A large crowd always gathers on Valley Road to view the parade. Many times, students invite their families to the parade and the game.

Bottom: Wave and smile, wave and smile. The candidates for Homecoming king and queen usually ride into the parade in convertibles followed by their floats and organization. Allegra Cohen of Delta Phi Epsilon was one of this year's candidates.

Top: You put your right hand in, you put your right hand out... Here, members of Pike and Tri-Sig "Take the World by Storm" with their performance.

Bottom: And step to the left... Usually, sororities and fraternities pair up for the competition.

Hundreds of people turn out for the Homecoming Parade every year, whether they are a part of the MSU community or residents from the surrounding towns. The performances by the organizations are judged by a panel of university and town officials, and the winners are announced later on in the evening during half-time of the big game.

The Parade

You and me, baby, ain't nothing but mammals, so let's do it like they do on the discovery channel! Even Noah and his Ark full of animals came out for the parade!

Boogie Nights... Not all of the organizations that participate in the parade are Greek. Here, the Organization of Students for African Unity (OSAU) took the cake on the parade scene by taking their boogie party outside, as a hurricane wrecks their dance club.

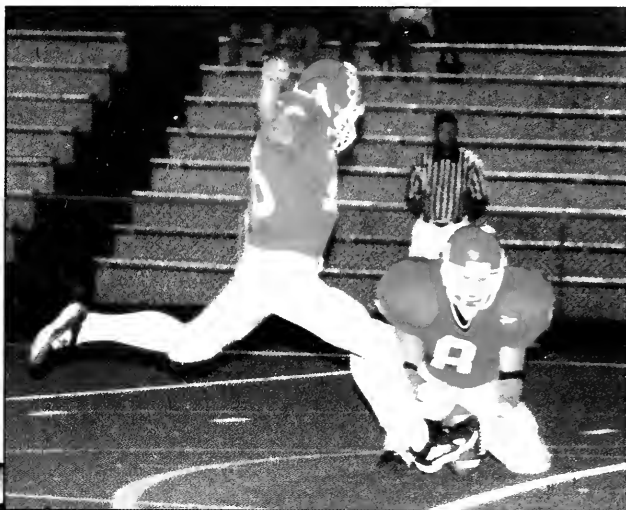

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's... what is it?!? Senate's performance at the end of the parade was definitely memorable! Their portrayal of mankind's self-destruction was, to say the least, shocking!

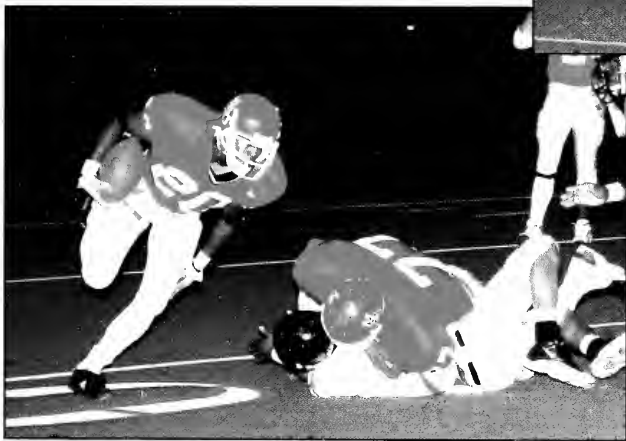

I hope we win, I hope we win! Phi Sigma Sigma showed the crowd how technology was "taking the world by storm".

The Game

The only thing more intense than the Homecoming game itself is probably the suspense! The Homecoming King and Queen, as well as the winners of the Homecoming Parade competition, are announced and awarded at half-time during the game.

Top: And KICK... The kick-off was witnessed by a huge crowd at the Sprague field.

Left: Gotta make a touchdown, gotta make a touchdown... The Red Hawks had no intention of letting go of that ball!

Say "Cheese"! Catiana Garcia of LASO and Takeem Dean of OSAU were crowned Homecoming King and Queen at the game.

Winterball

Winterball 2000 turned out to be a great success, with hundreds of people in attendance.

Sponsored by CLUB and the SGA, the event took place on the evening of December 7, 2000. MSU students came together at Mayfair Farms in West Orange where they enjoyed dinner and dancing, in addition to an open bar serving those students who were of legal drinking age (wink, wink!).

Shot glasses with the theme and date of the event were provided as favors, as were disposable cameras donated by La Campana, MSU's yearbook, so that all those present could capture on film the wonderful memories made that night.

Top: Smile for the birdie! The winterball gives students a chance to get out of the jeans and T-shirts and strut their stuff all dressed up.

Left: Honey, I don't wanna dance anymore. Winterball is a good time for students to let loose before finals.

Fill 'er up, please!
The open bar at the Winterball is an added incentive for students in attendance! Some may argue that it's a deciding factor when debating whether or not to go.

Do a little dance... Looks like junior Liz Hutchinson really knows how to party! Of course, a comfortable pair of dancing shoes helps her keep going..

Let's see some ID... Students of legal drinking age had to present ID before attaining the highly-coveted smiley-faced wristband Security Officer Frank was handing out.

Rock on, baby! MSU students know how to have fun, or at least these two do. These ladies definitely seem in tune with their party skills.

Love is in the air... Many couples attend the party. Here are just a few of those couples enjoying the dinner and dancing and, above all, each other's company at the Winterball.

Try the sushi... it's tasty! Even the Montclairian staff came out for the party: Webmaster Alyson Thelin, Writer/Photographer Mike Halper, Production Editor Jim Davison, and Humour Editor Brian Cross.

Bottom: How low can YOU go? SGA legislator Chris Fitzpatrick seems to be having a very good time dancing with Cailleigh.

Yeah, I can groove to this... Even better than the food and the alcohol was the music and dancing. Not a moment passed with an empty dance floor at the party.

Spring Week

This year's Spring Week was definitely a good one, with inflatable games, euro-bungee, a foam party, the battle of the bands, and a visit from the KTU 103.5 FM van. Then again, it would be difficult for the event to be anything but fun with a theme like "Party In Your Pants".

In keeping with that crazy theme, CLUB (the sponsor of the annual event) grabbed hold of a few pairs of old jeans and painted the event's theme onto the legs before proceeding to hang them around the SC quad. Other pairs acted as a calendar, with the individual events for the week written on them along with the date and time.

Above all else, spring week gave the student body a chance to release some tension and just have fun in between their classes. To say the least, MSU got a chance to "Party In Their Pants".

Right: CLUB advertised the events with decorated old jeans hung around the SC quad.

Bottom: I'm ready for my close-up... Spring Week started off with a foam party for the students.

Party In Our Pants !!!

Top and Left: It's the beat of New York! KTU 103.5 FM joined in the festivities, blasting some music from the Student Center one rainy afternoon.

Right and Bottom: Up and down, and up and down... The Euro-Bungee cords set up in front of the SC had students flipping out, literally! Of course, some preferred to just watch.

Top: Hey, I can't see! Juniors Kristin Cook and Nicole Patterson took a break from classes to enjoy the games set up for Spring Week.

Left: Look, Ma, no hands! SGA legislator Derek Macchia tried some velcro-jumping. Let's just say he went head over heels for it!

Bottom: Oooh, that had to hurt! Nothing relieves stress better than a little boxing match.

Battle of the Bands

La, La, Lala... One-Pedaled Bike won first prize at the battle of the bands event, receiving a gift certificate for $200 to be used at a music store.

Yeah, yeah, yeah... Coming in a close second was Chapter One. They too received a gift certificate, this one valued at $100, to be used at a music store.

Sports Illustrated

Don't look down, just don't look down... The rock-climbing tower, a popular game at this year's Sports Illustrated event, was taken on by many students, with only some succeeding to the top while many others failed miserably.

Every year, the Sports Illustrated Campus Tour makes a stop at MSU, bringing with it games, give-aways and challenges. One of the more popular events this year was the pseudo-rockclimbing tower setup on the SC lawn, presented by Nokia. All the games offered gave students an opportunity to test their athletic abilities.

I think I can... Many students took a shot at the football stand. Anyone who successfully threw the football into the opening a few feet away won a prize.

Watch this slapshot! The slapshot challenge, sponsored by Reese's, had a few students giving it their best. So, is there a wrong way to hit a hockey puck?

Go Baby Go

Left and Middle: And they're off! The National Thoroughbred Racing Association also joined in the fun, adding a racing game to the day's activities.

Almost there... The SC quad was filled with inflatable games for students to enjoy in between classes.

Come on, big money! The "spin & win" stand had a few students trying their luck. Among the prizes were keychains, hats and T-shirts.

World's Fair

The front steps of the Student Center were adorned that day with the bright colors of dozens of flags, all put on display in celebration of the World's Fair at MSU. Many students walked about dressed in attire native to their country of descent while cultural performances took place on the stage set up in front of the SC. The highlight of the day, though, was the human chain formed in the afternoon. MSU students, staff and faculty joined hands and formed a chain around the SC quad. Although it only lasted for a few minutes, it was a time for the MSU community, and the world, to come together.

Top and Right:
International Pride... A face-painting artist was on hand to paint international flags on the faces of those students with cultural pride.

...and the allegiance... The front steps of the SC were lined with dozens of flags from around the world on the day of the World's Fair at MSU.

Top and Right: We are the world...
The human chain that students and faculty formed around the SC quad was a beautiful gesture in the name of world peace.

Multicultural performances, like this belly-dancing routine, took place on a stage set up in front of the SC.

Students dressed in attire native to their country of descent added to the day's festivities.

Dean Harris spoke on the importance of celebrating multiculturalism.

Senior Bash ...

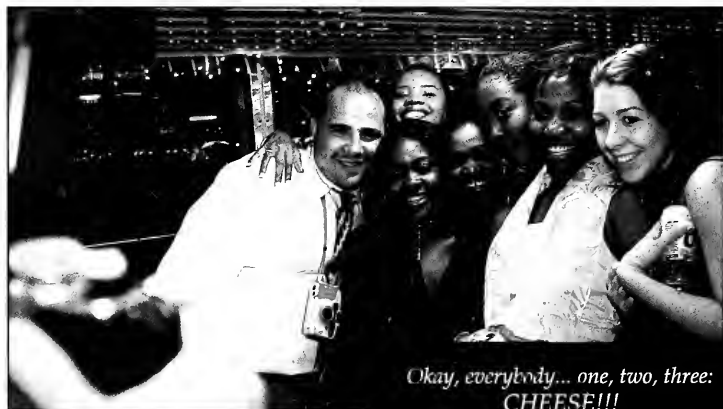

Hee-hee-hee... cut it out, that tickles! Hee-hee-hee!

The Senior Committee for 2001 wanted to do something a little different with Senior Bash this year. So, after a lot of thought, they came up with an idea that would keep Senior Bash fun and make it a little more exciting: they held the event on a boat. A line of buses transported the party-going students to Lincoln Harbor, from where the boat

Just a few minutes more and we'll beat the world record for longest kiss!

*Okay, everybody... one, two, three:
CHEESE!!!*

Cruisin' the Night Away

would be departing for its three-hour tour around Manhattan. Set against the New York skyline, as well as a beautiful close-up of the Statue of Liberty, the event was a success. However, due to the low, low temperatures, most of the party remained in the cabin, enjoying the dancing more than the view.

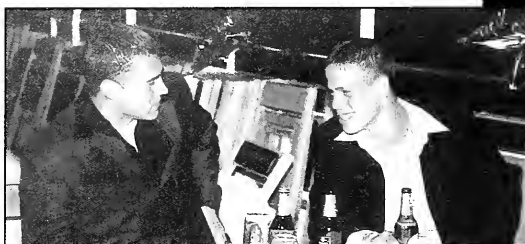

Smile for the camera!

Yeah, I had a few drinks...

Yeah... uh-huh... who's your daddy?

Whether they were dancing, drinking or just hanging out with friends, everyone on board had an, um, interesting time testing out their sea legs. Let's just say that the alcohol, lack of dinner, and rolling waves rocking the boat to and fro didn't all mix well!

Strike a pose! With or without dates, everyone had a good time just being together and enjoying the music with friends.

It's ladies night! (wink, wink!)

With plenty of singles on board, finding a dance partner proved to be no trouble, as these guys could probably tell you.

You call that dancing?!? The one thing that could be heard above the music was probably all the laughter. Hmm... more bubbly anyone?

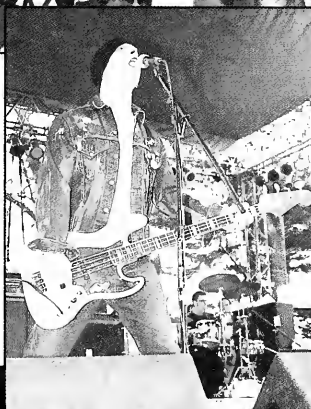

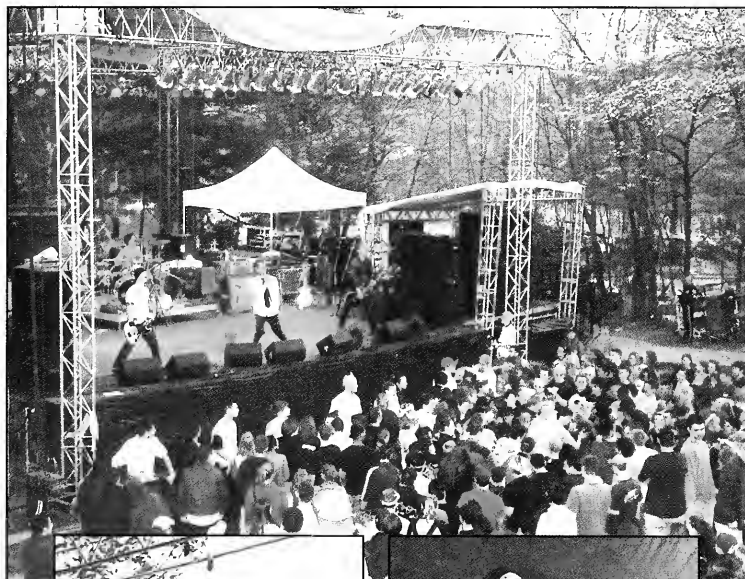

Chug! Chug! Chug! This guy definitely took advantage of the open bar that evening...several times!

Hehehe... I love my Long Island Iced Tea... hehehe. Without dinner, everyone just filled up at the bar.

Montclair Fest

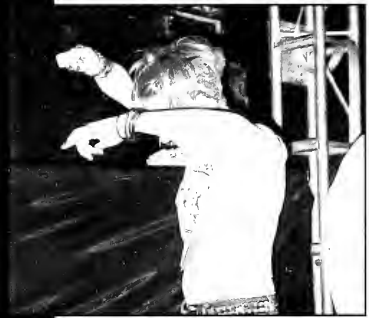

Bouncing Souls gave the crowd what they were looking for: good music, a good show, and a good time!

The first annual Montclair Fest was an event that MSU will never forget. Sponsored by the teamwork of Class 1 Concerts, WMSC the radio station, CLUB, LASO and OSAU, the three day long music festival drew crowds in the thousands, with students from the College of New Jersey, William Paterson U., Kean U., Rutgers and Seton Hall U. in attendance, as well as other people who came from miles around.

Held at the MSU amphitheater, the weekend festival was split into musical categories for each day. On Friday, local bands entertained the crowd. The music continued on Saturday with Latin music, Reggae and Hip Hop, and Alternative, Punk and SKA finished off the weekend on Sunday.

Among the headliners were 2 Skinny J's, Bouncing Souls and Capone and Noreaga. Congratulations to all those involved. It was an amazing show!

2 Skinny J's had the crowd rockin' with their electrifying performance! The big bunny guy was a big hit, too.

Capone and Noreaga's production left nothing to be desired.

S.G.A. Banquet

The SGA Banquet this year was very similar to the ones in previous years: legislators were thanked, the best organizations were awarded, new executive board members were sworn in and "good-bye and good luck" was said. However, this year's event brought a few different details to the program.

For one, a farewell was given to Chuck Feiner, head of student activities for a number of years. Second, the memory of SGA legislator Eby Ohamadike was honored with a moment of silence, beautiful words and a memorial scholarship fund in his name. It was a truly memorable evening for all those present.

This year's legislators were among the best the school has ever seen. They were all involved, enthusiastic and determined in their work.

The SGA cabinet all received commemorative plaques recognizing their work.

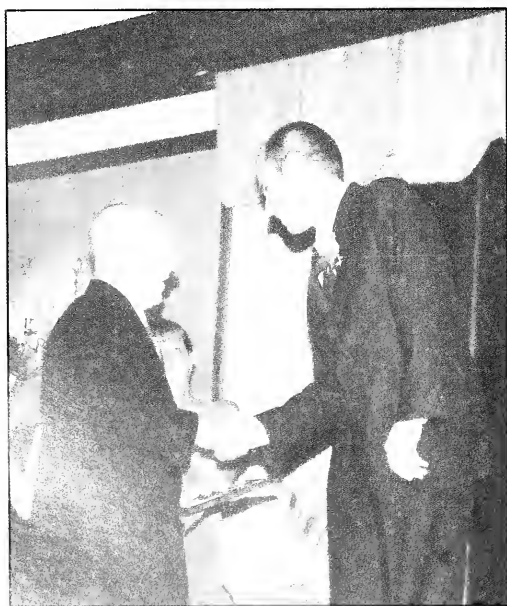

One of the more touching moments of the banquet was the farewell to Chuck Feiner, Director of Student Activities. He was honored for his work here and thanked for all he contributed to student life during his years here at MSU.

The Greek Council Executive board was also honored for their hard work. Thanks to their dedication and work, the interaction between Greek Council and the SGA was always smooth and peaceful.

Nadia Rhines, friend to and fellow legislator with Ehy Ohamadike, was the recipient of Eby's memorial scholarship.

WMSC was surprised to hear their name called when announcing the CLASS I organization of the year. In addition, their president Frank Hering, or 'Uncle Frank' as he is known among the students, was named CLASS I president of the year. Their hard work in bringing the radio station back to life deserved recognition!

Bottom: Everyone at the banquet took time out from the many awards being given out to enjoy the wonderful food.

Japanese fighting fish were provided as unique favors to the banquet's guests.

SGA legislator Chris Fitzpatrick presented president Michael Kazimir with a farewell gift at the banquet.

Graduation 2001!

the Class of 2001!

Congratulations to the Class of 2001!!!

*The Staff of La Campana would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the graduates of the Class of 2001. After 4 years (give or take), you've made it!
Best wishes, and good luck in the future.
Never forget your times here at Montclair State.*

The Colors Of The Rainbow

'Our True Colors Shining Through'

Why are there so many songs about rainbows?
And what's on the other side?
Rainbows are visions, but only illusions,
And rainbows have nothing to hide.

So we've been told, and some choose to believe it.
I know they're wrong, wait and see.
Someday we'll find it,
The rainbow connection,
The lover, the dreamer and me.

Who said that every wish would be heard and answered,
When wished on the morning stars?
Somebody thought of that and someone believed it.
Look what it's done so far.
What's so amazing that keeps us star gazing,
And what do we think we might see?

I see trees of green, red roses too,
I watch them bloom for me and you,
And I think to myself,
"What a wonderful world."

I see skies of blue, clouds of white,
Bright blessed days, warm sacred nights,
And I think to myself,
"What a wonderful world."

The colors of the rainbow, so pretty in the sky,
Are there on the faces of people going by.
I see friends shaking hands,
Saying, "How do you do?"
They're really saying, "I love you."

"Where does the violet tint end and the orange tint begin?
Distinctly we see the difference of the colors,
But where exactly does the one first blending enter into the other.
So with sanity and insanity." Herman Melville

Red and yellow, and pink and green,
Purple and orange and blue.
I can sing a rainbow,
Sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow too.
Listen with your eyes,
Hear everything you see.
Listen with your eyes,
And sing a rainbow with me.

I know there is a rainbow for me to follow,
To get beyond my sorrow.
Thunder precedes the sunlight.
So I'll be alright,
If I can find that rainbow's end.

Somewhere over the rainbow, way up high,
There's a land that I heard of,
Once in a lullaby.

Somewhere over the rainbow, skies are blue,
And the dreams that you dare to dream
Really do come true.

I see your true colors shining through,
I see your true colors, and that's why I love you.
So don't be afraid to let them show.
Your true colors are beautiful,
Like a rainbow.

I'm on the outside, I'm looking in.
I can see through you, see your true colors.

Red

Looking at the rainbow's start,
We find the color of Elmo's heart,
A bright fire truck, the light where you're stuck,
Of Valentine's Day it's a major part.

Red is the color of food that you eat,
Like apples, tomatoes, and bloody raw meat.
Ketchup and Mars, and fancy fast cars,
The hawk and the pride of Montclair State.

Red is found around things that are hot,
And sometimes in the eyes of people on pot.
Red are the roses, and bright red clown noses,
And the faces of those who are angry a lot.

A bottle of white, a bottle of red,
Perhaps a bottle of rose instead.
We'll get a table near the street,
In our old familiar place,
You and I, face to face.

Red can be a fire engine, zooming down the street.
Red can be a pretty-smelling rose.
Red can be the sunset as the day becomes complete.
Red can be the color of your nose.

Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer,
Had a very shiny nose,
And if you ever saw him,
You would even say it glows.

She dreams in color, she dreams in red,
Can't find a better man.

Daniel is traveling tonight on a plane,
I can see the red tail lights heading for Spain.

Her lips are devil red, and her skin's the color mocha.

"What is your red hot why?" James Mackinak

"Our love is like a red, red rose...
And I'm a little thorny." The Mask

Orange

The color of orange is so rarely seen,
Yet is essential to Halloween.
With pumpkins and gourds,
It can't be ignored,
It's just as important as yellow or green.

Orange is sherbert that small kids desire,
Orange are flames of a bright roaring fire,
Tigger and Pooh
Are orange too,
As are the carrots Bugs Bunny acquires.

Orange is beauty, like a gorgeous sunset,
Or orange is lazy, like Garfield the cat.
Oranges aren't red,
They're orange instead,
Who would have thought to call them that?

Knock knock.
Who's there?
Orange.
Orange who?
Orange you glad I didn't say banana?

"Did you know that by mixing equal parts of gasoline and frozen orange juice concentrate you can make napalm?" Tyler Durden

"Would ya look at the size of that kid's head! Looks like an orange on a toothpick!" Stuart Mackenzie

"Time is like an orange. It's round. It repeats itself. Everything happens for a reason." Freddie

How about a pair of pink sidewinders
And a bright orange pair of pants?

I was humming a tune, drinking in sunshine,
When out of the orange-colored view,
I got a look at you.

I was walking along minding my business,
When love came and hit me in the eye,
Out of the orange-colored sky.

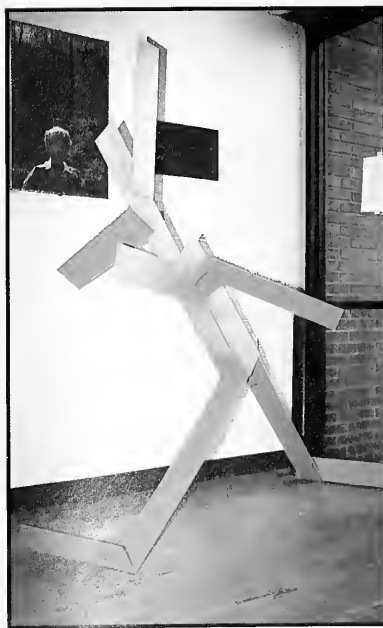

Yellow

Known as the color of the sun blazing bright,
Yellow is the coward who's running in fright,
As are the chicks,
And Dorothy's bricks,
And the teeth of smokers that once were white.

At yellow lights yellow buses slow down,
But not yellow taxis that zip across town.
Big Bird is yellow,
(is Tweety a fellow?),
Lemons in trees and marigolds in the ground.

So we sailed up to the sun,
Till we found the sea of green,
And we lived beneath the waves,
In our yellow submarine.

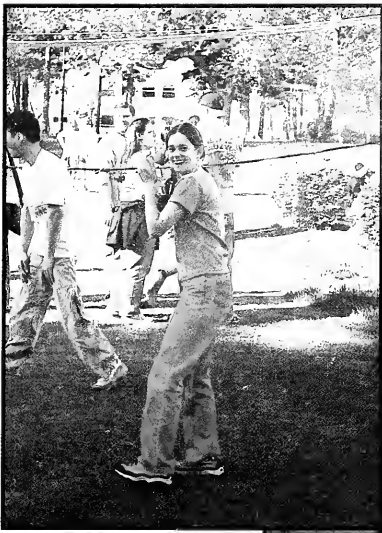

As we live a life of ease,
Everyone of us has all we need,
Sky of blue and sea of green,
In our yellow submarine.

So goodbye yellow brick road,
Where the dogs of society howl.
You can't plant me in your penthouse,
I'm going back to my plough.
Oh I've finally decided my future lies,
Beyond the yellow brick road.

We are all sitting, legs crossed around a fire.
My yellow flame she dances,
Tequila drinking, oh, our minds will wander
To wondrous places.

Look at the stars,
Look how they shine for you,
And everything you do,
Yeah, they were all yellow.

I came along,
I wrote a song for you,
And all the things you do,
And it was called "Yellow."

Green

Green are the envious who want your green cash,
As are the leprechaun's guarding their stash,
Green means go
For G.I. Joe
But not for Oscar in his trash.

Nature exalts the glory of green,
For in the trees and the grass it is seen.
If you have a green thumb,
Then gardening ain't dumb;
And Green Acres is the place to be.

Green are iguanas, and Kermit the Frog,
Living in swamps, jungles and bogs.
The Incredible Hulk
Is green by the bulk,
Eating green veggies somewhere in the fog.

"I do not like them Sam I Am,
I do not like green eggs and ham." Dr. Seuss

Take me down to the paradise city,
Where the grass is green and the girls are pretty.
Take me home.

What are you waiting for, a certain shade of green?
I think I grew a gray watching you procrastinate.
Would a written invitation signed,
"Choose now or lose it all," sedate your hesitation?

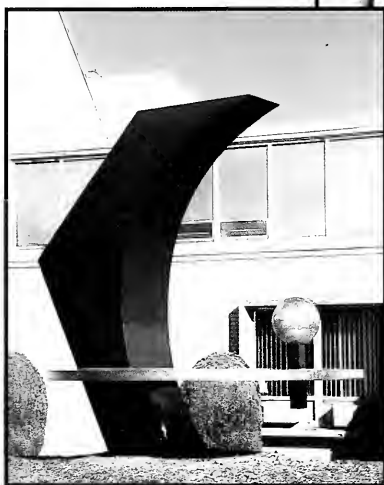

It's not easy bein' green,
Having to spend each day the color of the leaves.
When I think it could be nicer,
Being red or yellow or gold,
Or something much more colorful like that.

It seems to blend in with so many ordinary things,
And people tend to pass you over 'cause you're
Not standing out like flashy sparkles in the water,
Or stars in the sky.

But green's the color of Spring,
And green can be big like an ocean,
Or important like a mountain,
Or tall like a tree.

When green is all there is to be,
It could make you wonder why, but why wonder?
I am green, and it'll do fine; it's beautiful!
I think it's what I want to be.

Blue

Yo, listen up here's a story about a little guy that lives in a blue world and all day and all night and everything he sees is just blue, like him inside and outside.

Blue his house with a blue little window and a blue corvette and everything is blue for him and hisself and everybody around cause he ain't got nobody to listen to.

Blue are those who sit and cry,
Blue's the water and blue's the sky.
Out of the blue
Comes something new.
A 'true blue' bird will never from you fly.

Labeled blue is something cold.
Blue ribbon for first instead of gold.
A moon is blue,
When there are two.
Blue you'll turn your breath you hold.

"The pen is blue, the pen is blue,
the goddamn pen is blue!" Fletcher

"I know what you're thinking, 'cause right now I'm thinking the same thing. Actually I've been thinking it ever since I got here: Why oh why didn't I take the BLUE pill?" Cypher

I'm blue da ba dee da ba die.
I have a blue house with a blue window.
Blue is the colour of all that I wear.
Blue are the streets and all the trees are too.
I have a girlfriend and she is so blue.
Blue are the people here that walk around,
Blue like my corvette, it's standing outside.
Blue are the words I saw and what I think.
Blue are the feelings that live inside me.

Blue eyes, baby's got blue eyes,
Like a deep blue sea, on a blue blue day.
Like a clear blue sky watching over me.

Blue moon, you saw me standing alone,
Without a dream in my heart,
Without a love of my own.

Blue skies smilin' at me,
Nothin' but blue skies do I see.
Bluebirds singin' a song,
Nothin' but bluebirds all day long.
Blue days all of them gone,
Nothin' but blue skies from now on.

Purple

Purple haze or purple rain?
Either way we're all insane.
If you're not convinced,
Then take a look at Prince;
How often can one change his name?

If purple shows high royalty,
How royal can Barney be?
Eggplant parm,
Can do no harm,
Nor our mountains majesty.

Incandescent purple light,
I have found is not too bright.
But the rainbow's end
Is surely purple's friend;
So I guess Barney has it right.

Purple haze all in my brain,
Lately things just don't seem the same.
Actin' funny, but I don't know why,
Excuse me while I kiss the sky.

Purple haze all around,
Don't know if I'm comin' up or down,
Am I happy or in misery?
Whatever it is, that girl put a spell on me.

Purple haze all in my eyes,
Don't know if it's day or night.
You got me blowin', blowin' my mind.
Is it tomorrow, or just the end of time?

And my eyes are mirrors of the world outside,
Thinking of the way that the wind can turn the tide.
And these shadows turn from purple into grey.

For purple mountains' majesty
Above the fruited plains.

It was a one-eyed, one-horned,
Flying purple people eater.

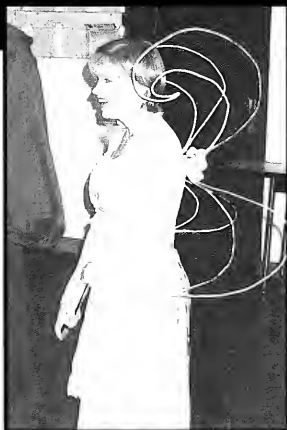

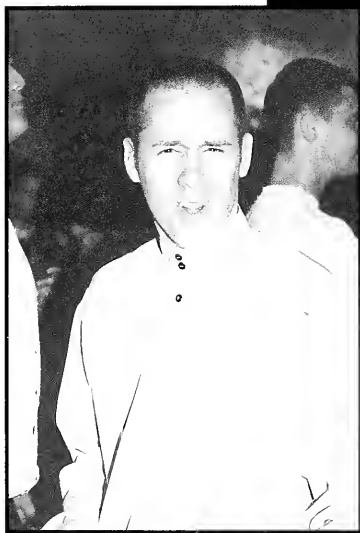

I never meant to cause you any sorrow,
I never meant to cause you any pain,
I only wanted to one time see you laughing,
I only wanted to see you laughing in the purple rain.
You can't seem to make up your mind,
I think you better come with me and let me
Guide you to the purple rain.

Black and White

The opposite colors of black and white,
Are as different as dark and bright,
Yet in the world around,
Together they are found,
Like the glowing moon in the darkest night.

To come together none can say,
That black and white can't be that way.
For dressed in black and white,
The bride and groom unite,
Forever on their wedding day.

She's into superstitions,
Black cats and voodoo dolls.

Leave all the lights on
So I can see the black cat changing colors.
Keep all your sights on
The big bad black cat that's changing colors.
It's not the colors that matter,
But that they'll all fade away.

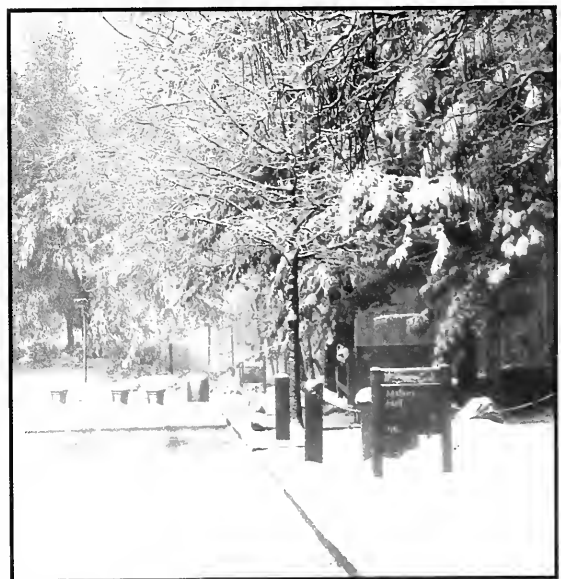

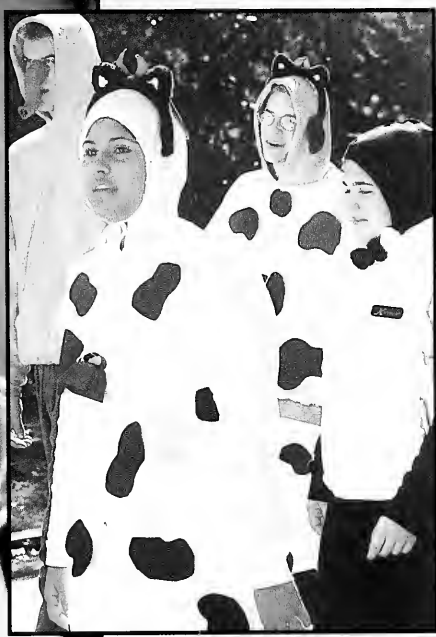

I can't light no more of your darkness;
All my pictures seem to fade to black and white.

Oh mother, father, please explain to me
How this rare world's come to be
A place so full of color yet overflowing
Always in black and white.

Shades of grey wherever I go;
The more I find out the less that I know.
Black and white is how it should be,
But shades of grey are the colors I see.
There ain't no rainbows shining on me;
Shades of grey are the colors I see.

Black hole sun, won't you come,
And wash away the rain?

It's a fine day for a white wedding.

Never stop chasing rainbows...

Dreams that have shattered,
May not have mattered,
Take another point of view.
Doubts arise though,
Like chasing a rainbow,
I can tell a thing or two,
That's true.

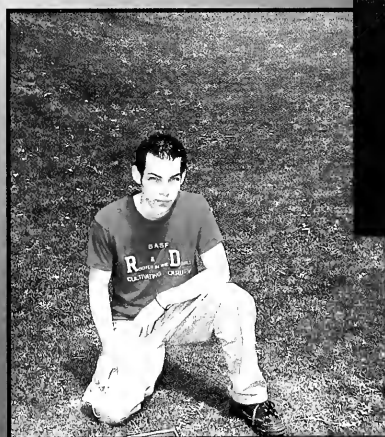

Movie stars:
Find the end of the rainbow,
With that fortune to win;
It's so different from
The world I'm living in.

And, I'll bet the sun,
It's always shining,
And no tears will ever
Dim the eye,
And the ending
Of the rainbow,
Where the mountains,
They touch the sky.

But I was chasin' rainbows,
Blinded by the sun,
And did I take for granted,
I'd be the only one?

You made me a believer,
You made me trust again,
You showed me there's a pot of gold,
At every rainbow's end.

Ride the rainbow
To the other side,
Catch a falling star
And then take a ride,
To the river that sings,
And the clover that brings
Good luck to you, it's all true.

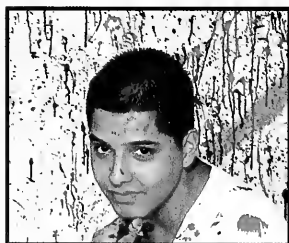

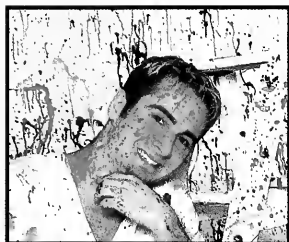

Desperado, why don't you
Come to your senses?
Come down from your fences,
Open the gate.
It may be rainin', but there's a
Rainbow above you.
You better let somebody love you,
Before it's too late.

...or you'll never find that pot of gold.

After a long year of reorganization, La Campana is back in order. We are proud and excited to be one of few schools who have ever produced a full color yearbook. A first for Montclair State University, we hope to mark this as a new beginning. Throughout the year our staff has remained small, but with this small group and much determination we have done our job. We are eagerly looking forward to the upcoming year (years for some) and producing the next book. It is a long and tedious process at times but in the end, when we get to see the product of our time and effort, somehow it is all worth it.

Boston ... October 2000

Hmm...I think I have an idea...

So what exactly were they doing?

*At the Jostens conference in Boston we had our first real chance to let our ideas fly. As we viewed slides, our pens feverishly raced, getting our ideas down on paper. Meeting with Rick we were able to design the prism, the artwork used throughout our book.
Upon leaving we were anxious to get back and get started! But not before we had some fun! After all, all work and no play.....*

La la la la, la la la la ...
Can Can

What're you
looking at?

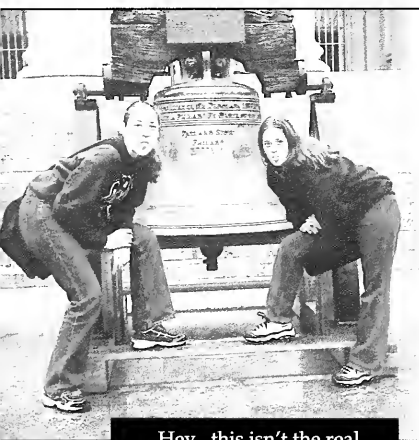

"The Guys"

They're nuts...
make them go away!

Hey...this isn't the real
Liberty Bell!!!

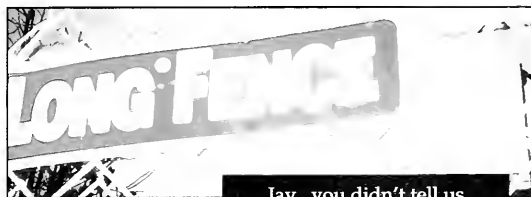

*Attending the Associated Press
Conference in Washington, D.C.
in November of an election year resulted in a rough start as the room we reserved was being held due to Florida's inability to choose a President. Nevertheless this conference proved to be very beneficial as we were able to attend
many sessions on photography, layout design, and themes.
Bringing together staffs from throughout the U.S., we were able to meet many new people and share useful ideas. We also made sure to use our free time to take in the sites and make the most of our time there.*

We're not stalking the White House...really...

Woo...I'm riding

Jay...you didn't tell us
you made fences!!!

Penn State ... January 2001

Don't ask...

You may now kiss
the...bunny?

What do they want from me?
Oh my head...

At the Jostens plant in Penn State we had the opportunity to sit down with Rick and finalize the artwork for the book. We designed the cover, the dividers and the folios for all of the pages. We also came up with the idea of inserting a photo into a prism at the top of each page. With all of our ideas, we know we must have given Rick a headache but in the end everything looked great. We left feeling excited about getting the book done and seeing it all in print.

Oh yeah...I got them trapped...I rock!!!

Nicole looking Secretaryish...

So the last yearbook we had was in 1973???

Theme...must think of a theme...

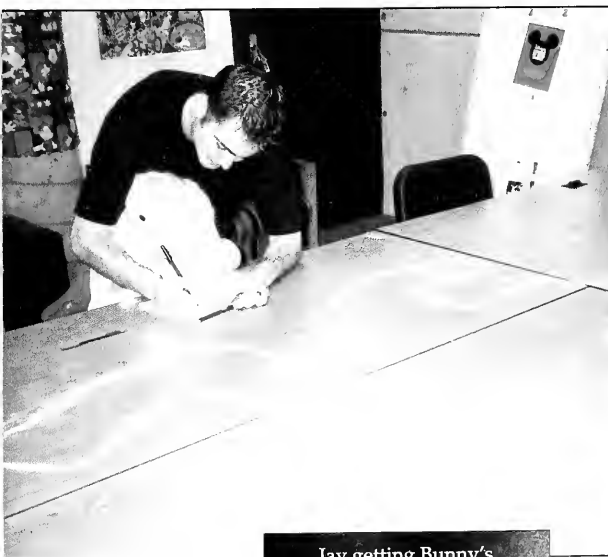

Am I filing these right?

Our office....what can we say? A lot of weird things tend to happen here, from frisbee wars and hackysack to random reorganization and painting. It isn't always fun and games though. A lot of the time we spend here goes into things that are necessary to complete the book, like designing layouts and putting them on computer, choosing and cropping photos, writing copy and editing. Nevertheless, the times we spend here are always...well...interesting.....um.....yeah.....

I heard that!!!

Photo Shoot

With the decision of making the 2001 yearbook a full COLOR book we decided to go all out. The theme itself, Prism, reflects COLOR. But we wanted a way to carry this theme throughout the book. In brainstorming for the book we saw a photograph of people with a splattered paint background. So we came up with the crazy idea of a photo shoot, where we would splutter paint all over each other. Now we had to decide who would be involved in this photo shoot. So we decided to invite certain individuals to represent different aspects of campus life. Photos of each individual or group of individuals would be used throughout the different sections of the book to link it together.

December 14, 2000... The staff of La Campana got together to set up for the photo shoot which would take place the next day. Temporarily taking over room 112 of the Student Center Annex, we slowly transformed it into our own studio. Our first task - to move everything out of the room. Second - to cover the walls with white plastic. Third - to splutter the walls with the colors of the rainbow...red, orange, yellow, green, blue, purple. One hour before the shoot on the morning of December 15th, the room was set. The fun would soon begin.

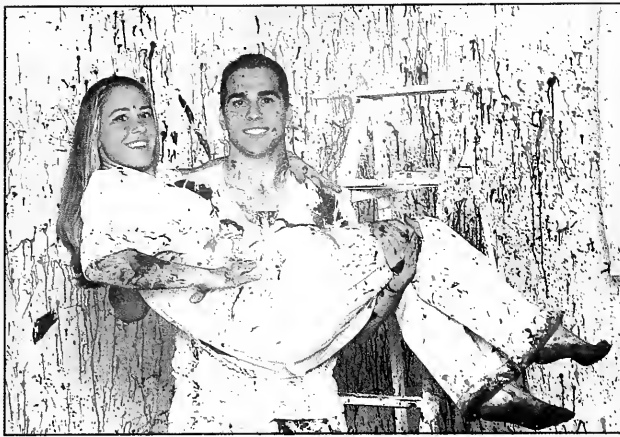

December 15, 2000... Everyone assembled in the La Campana office to get ready. White shirts and pants were distributed to all those who would be in the shoot. Everyone got changed and was now ready and eager to start. The photographer came and set up. The shoot could now begin. We all moved next door into the already paint-splattered room and posed for some group photos. Then...the fun began. Grabbing buckets and brushes of COLOR we chased each other around the room splattering the COLORS of the rainbow over our previously white clothing, while the photographer took photo after photo of the antics. When everyone was sufficiently covered we stopped to take the planned pictures. Tara posed for Sports, Bill, Jeannette and Shuriff for Organizations, Dan for the Greeks, and Chris, Jarret, Julie and Cathana for Student Life. Once all of the necessary shots were taken everyone was given the opportunity to take any posed shots they wanted to with whoever they wanted to, after all, how many more chances would we have to get photos of ourselves covered in splattered paint?

All in all, everyone had fun and enjoyed the experience, and it went rather well considering what we were actually doing. We were glad we came up with the idea and happy to see the end result, which is what you can see throughout the book and in these few pages. We enjoyed doing it and putting this all together. Now we hope you will enjoy seeing it.

Dan...the ladies man

I'm big...I'm bad...I know it...

We're too sexy for these photos, too sexy for these photos, too sexy oh yeah...

Can you see it?...heh heh
heh...I can touch
my own butt...

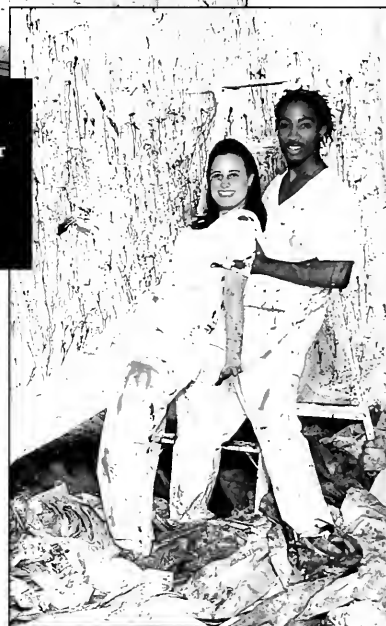

The Braveheart Duo!

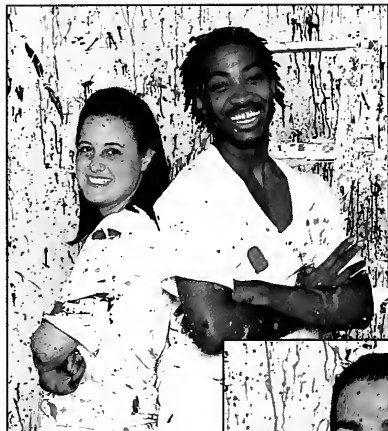

The girls are all falling for the guys huh?

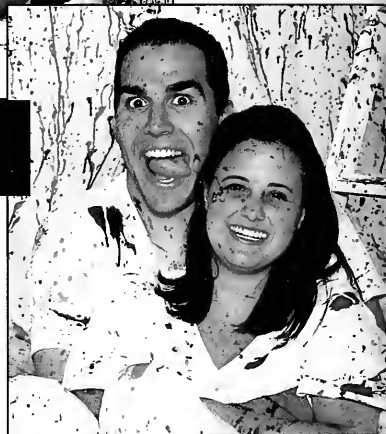

I believe I can fly....

I'm so loved...

La la la la la la.....

Freeman rules...oh yeah!!!

Come on guys...move!!!

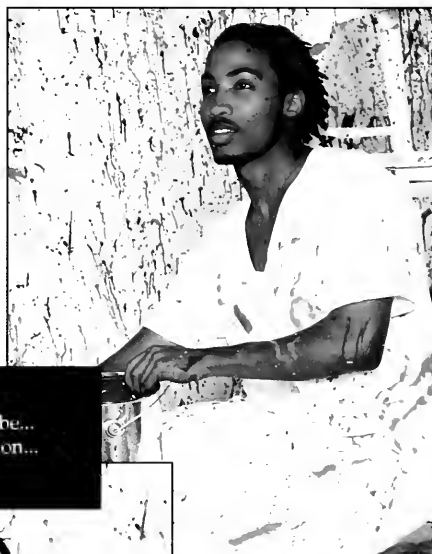

Wheeee.....I'm swinging a bucket...

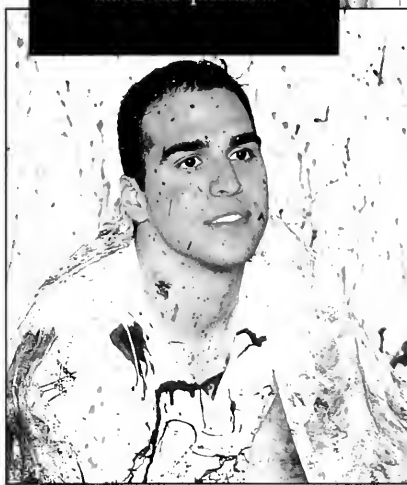

Yeah...I know I look cheesy...

Bucket head Bill...

Yeah...we're cool...
we know...

To be, or not to be...
that is the question...

Lizbeth Victorero - Treasurer

It feels soooo good to be right! I can't even begin to count how many times I had to hear the laughing and the ridiculing. Everyone knew, or thought they knew, La Campana would soon be a thing of the past. This book just goes to show: anything is possible. The yearbook came back... and with a RANG!

I'll be honest: it was more than a couple of times that I wanted to quit. Then again, with all the mockery and this extremely, um, "eventful" year to add to it, who could blame me? I know I wasn't the only one who considered walking out the door. But for some reason I didn't. Come to think about it, it was probably Christine who convinced me to stay. Whatever happened, I stuck with it. I soon began to realize that it really could be done.

So there we were, excited and hopeful about the 2001 book, growing in confidence, and realizing more and more everyday that it wasn't just wishful thinking. MSU's first full-color yearbook was really underway and speedily nearing completion. And here it is, a few months, a lot of pictures, and a long emotional rollercoaster later.

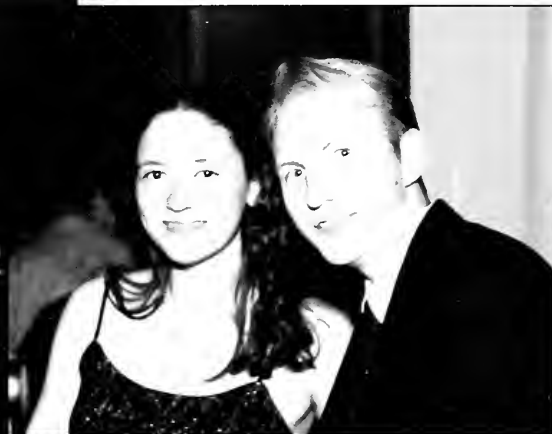

Thanks, Chris, for giving me a chance to be a part of something I'm really proud of. To the staff, thanks for the help, fun and patience.

Seniors, here are your memories. Enjoy!

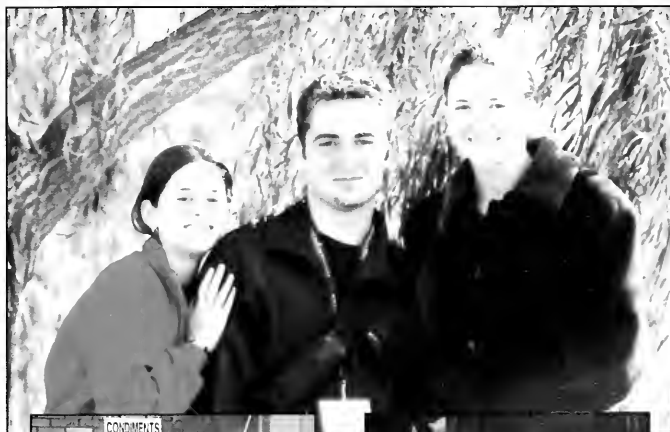

Nicole Patterson - Secretary

Though the year has been full of many unexpected twists and turns, the book is finally finished. The pages have been placed in the envelopes and the pictures cropped. For the remainder of the summer, we can only wait in anticipation of the arrival of the book in the fall. I would like to thank so many people who in some way or another helped in making the book what it is. To all of the Greek organizations who submitted their information and pictures, thank you so much for making my job as your section editor easier. To Grace, Kristin, and Brendon, though you were not on the yearbook staff, you were always there listening to me complain every time something was wrong. Thank you for your advice, "That's why I'm not on yearbook!". Brendon, you mean the world to me and I love you so very much. Since you are so cute, I just had to put your picture all over this page. To my family, I thank you and love you for just being there in case I needed you. I must also thank my fellow associates in the men's shoe department at Macy's for trying to help me figure out what to write on this page. To the La Campana staff, this year has been so crazy yet we were able to complete the book on time and without any all-nighters (excluding the photo shoot). I don't think that I'll ever forget the first meeting when only Jay and George showed up, Boston, DC, freezing outside at Senior Bash, or the countless "emergency" meetings during the year. I love you guys! To the students at Montclair State University and the Student Government Association, thank you for not giving up on the book and I hope that you enjoyed reliving the 2000-2001 year as much as I had putting the book together for you.

Jason Long - Vice President

Sara and Sammi visit for Homecoming

Never before have I been so determined to prove wrong the opinions of others. They said it couldn't be done, that Montclair would never again produce a yearbook. It feels good to be right! Granted, it wasn't easy by far! What difficulties my friends and I encountered as we struggled to rescue and ultimately determine the future of the yearbook! What pressures we faced from the student body and the University to produce something more recent than the 1998 "red book!" As if this wasn't enough stress, we as a staff began to have its own problems! However, as we had come through hardships before, we pulled together once again, picked up the slack, and produced an amazing yearbook. A lot of heart, time, sweat, and yes, even tears, went into the production of this book. I would personally like to thank the rest of the staff for not giving up when circumstances and people proved difficult; we should all be proud of ourselves for pulling together like we did.

Additionally, I send all my love to my family, namely my mother and father, both of whom have been through a lot this year, my grandparents who are always there to support in any way possible, and my sisters Sara and Sammi. Each one of them is always there for me and I hope they know that I will always be there for them.

Christine Gilliland - President

What can I say? Completing this book I finally feel like I can look back on my past year on this yearbook staff with satisfaction and a sigh of relief. It has been a long and trying year for all of us with many unexpected turn outs. When I started this year as Vice President, little did I expect to be taking over this year and be responsible for the production of this year's book as well as next year's. With this I, as well as the other members of the organization learned quickly what had to be done to complete this book, as we found ourselves in new positions and taking on added responsibilities. It has been stressful at times but I am confident in saying that I believe things are running better now than ever thanks to everyone's hard work and dedication. We've all been through a lot together in the past year, both good and bad, but despite all the problems, in the past few months everyone has pulled together to do their part and in the end produce a great book that we should all be proud of. For all this hard work and dedication I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone. When I was in doubt you believed in me, when I was discouraged you gave me words of confidence, and when I was ready to quit you made me realize again just how important this is to me. Thanks for all your help, during the transition and after. Be proud of yourselves. We did something that few believed would be done (and without any all-nighters might I add)!!! To everyone else who listened to me complain and vent when I was stressed, thank you. To my family, who has always been there for me to help and listen and offer advice and support, I thank you. Though I may not always show it, I appreciate it and I love you. To Jay, for listening to me ramble and for giving me somewhere to escape to when I needed to relax and get away from it all, thank you. I love you. =)
